Best of wishes,
A. Smith

Milly,

I really have enjoyed knowing you these past few years. We have had a lot of fun together. You are my closest friend and I hope you always will be. If I have my way things will always work out the best for us. From some of the things you have been saying to me in the past few days - I have my doubts about you. Maybe every thing will work out.

We have three more years of school together. I just hope we can be close friends all these years ahead of us. Boy, its really something to look forward to. I'm glad we are moving closer to you. Maybe you can comfort me for the first two months of the summer. You know what I mean. I imagine it will be pretty lonesome. Well I guess I better stop before I say too much. Good luck with J. G.

Love always,
Pam

Mildred,

It has been fun going to school with you. You are a swell neighbor too. I wish you sucess in the future. Stay crazy like you are now.

Love,
Marsha

Milly,
It has been a pleasure knowing you. I think you're a swell kid and a swell neighbor and I hope you always will be.
Love,
Alice

Milly,
It has been nice knowing you in the past few years. Good luck in the future years. Best of luck.
Love,
Jeanie

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely
as a tree

A tree that looks
at God all day,
And lifts her leafy
arms to pray;

Poems are made
by fools like me,
But only God
can make a tree.

Foreword

The majestic beauty of a full-grown tree represents years of growth in sunshine and rain as it is blown upon by winds and nourished by God's rich soil. So it is with a school and its products. We have tried to show you one year in the life cycle of such a place, your school. Here are found memories of study, of excitement just before the big game, of parties, of friendly people. Here, too, are found challenges: moral, physical, intellectual, and spiritual - forces which have helped shape personalities and develop leadership. We, therefore, present this book to you, hoping that it, too, will take its place as one of the forces which both portray and encourage the continuing growth of Sarepta High School.

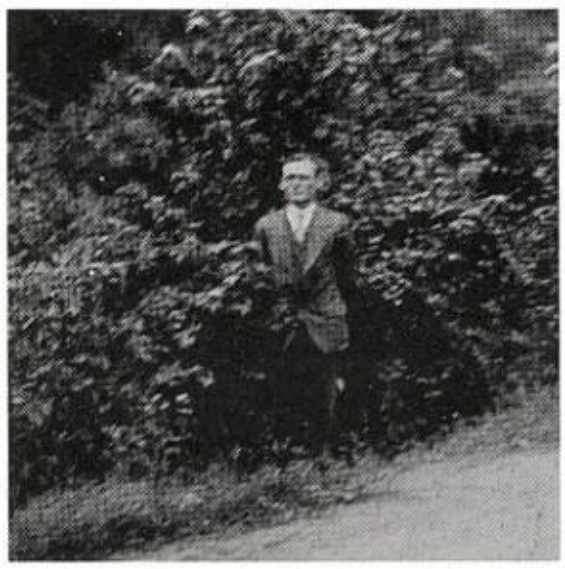
Dedication



A career begins -

Because the close of the current school year marks the end of a decade of service to this school and community, because both have filled places in the growth and well-being of all with whom they have come in contact, and because of the fine examples they have set for the student body through these years, this 1964 Hornet is dedicated with love and gratitude to Principal and Mrs. M. B. Murphy.

THE HORNET STAFF

A Champion team - Sarepta, 1928

On these two pages we are happy to show scenes, characteristic poses, and people with whom Mr. Murphy has worked closely at different times here in Sarepta.

Principal's Message

Many hours of planning and hard work have gone into the publication of this issue of the Hornet. It is with pleasure that I congratulate the sponsors and staff on a superb job well done. It has been the aim of those responsible for the publication of this yearbook to make it larger and better every year. I hope that you will cherish and enjoy this issue when it reaches your hands.

I should also like to express my gratitude to the faculty, students, all organizations of the school, business and professional people, and the friends of the school for their loyal support. I hope that your years here have brought each of you to a realization that education is a never-ending and enjoyable way of life. The future is yours - the challenges are great. The responsibilities are even greater. To the undergraduates who remain, the challenge to do even greater things to strengthen your educational background confronts you. You must meet it to compete in this space age and demanding world.

After commencement some will be leaving, while others will be making a step forward. Whichever you happen to be doing, I wish for each of you happiness and success in what you have chosen. As you can see, teamwork has helped to make this '64 story of your school possible. I am grateful for the privilege of working with you, and for the cooperative spirit that I have received.

As a final note, I would like to remind you of something someone else has said well, "And each must build before life has flown, a stumbling block or a stepping stone." I hope that yours will be the latter choice.

The Student Council has promoted many whorthwhile activities for the benefit of Sarepta High School. One of these was the establishment of the honor card system, at the beginning of the 1963 school session. For the past two years they have sponsored Teachers Appreciation Day. The publication of the Student Handbook in 1963 was another contribution made by this enterprising group. For the 1963 Student Council elections, they introduced the voting machine to the high school. Yes, we are very proud of the accomplishments of our Council, for they have lead the way in building a better and more outstanding student body. High ideals are catching.
